

April 2020

Let us start with celebrating the 50th Anniversary of Earth Day! Enjoy this thought from the Sierra Club..

What I see in Nature is a grand design that we can understand only imperfectly, one with which a responsible person must look at with humility.

Albert Einstein

Photo by Alice Cahill, Yosemite National Park

---

Do you remember 50 years ago what you were doing or thinking about pollution? What was your first awareness of the environment and its impact on earth and our health? Are you willing to work to defeat Trump in November and reverse the harm he has caused here and Internationally to the environment? Sadly, the list is too long to include here, but you can read here:

The New York Times: 95 Environmental Rules Being Rolled Back Under Trump

A comprehensive list of environmental policies the Trump administration has targeted, often to ease burdens on the fossil fuel industry and other big businesses.

<https://www.nytimes.com/interactive/2019/climate/trump-environment-rollbacks.html>

